COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

I have about two dozen copies of a bulletin from the Department of Economic Development containing general information of the eclipse of the sun in Maine on July 20, 1963. The bulletin describes the way an eclipse occurs and the things to watch for on July 20. Anyone wanting a bulletin may pick it up at the office as long as the supply lasts. If the demand is great enough, I will obtain additional copies.

The road surfacing has not begun yet because the tar distributing company has had drivers out sick. The tarring will start just as soon as the material can be obtained.

The sampling of elm trees that appear to have the dutch elm disease will start about the second week of July. A few people have reported trees that might have dutch elm disease. Anyone else that knows of trees that should be sampled and tested should stop at the office or call the office before the second week of July. A lot of elm trees die from causes other than dutch elm disease so the trees should be tested before removal.

The liens on real estate for 1962 will be made out next week and recorded with the registry of deeds on Friday, June 28, 1963.

NTL Conducts 17th Annual Human Relations Program in Bethel

How many problems in organizations, businesses, government offices, community associations—family life itself—grow out of the fact that people don't communicate very well? Can people learn how to work and live together more effectively?

There are some of the questions participants will bring to the Annual Human Relations Training Laboratories to be conducted this summer at Bethel, for the 17th consecutive year. The programs are conducted by the National Training Laboratories of the National Education Association.

The first of a series of two week programs is scheduled for June 16-28. In addition to the human relations laboratory for people from all parts of the country and a variety of occupations and interests, the 4th annual College Leadership Program will be conducted at this time. Twenty-four colleges and universities from Maine to California are sending teams of students and faculty. Major interests will be leadership development for campus life and improving student-faculty collaboration in classroom learning.

The second series is from July 7-19 when the second human relations laboratory session is held and the 4th Annual Community Leadership Training Laboratory. Communities from across the country are sending community leadership teams to work on community problems requiring more effective teamwork among agencies and more productive leadership.

The third series is from July 28 to August 9 when a School Executives Laboratory will be held along with the third session of the Human Relations program.

Each summer a number of participants return to Bethel for a second training experience. This summer there will be a Continuing Human Relations Laboratory for "alumni" from July 7-19.

The training staff or faculty for the training programs are drawn from NTL's National and international network of behavioral scientists, for the most part located in their regular work on campuses of leading universities.

With many of the participants bringing their families with them, the summer program will bring to Bethel more than a thousand persons this summer. The sessions are conducted at Gould Academy and at NTL's Conference Center, acquired in 1956.

Harold Hodsdon was a patient in a South Portland nursing home last week.

Mrs. Everett Farrington entertained twelve members of the East Andover Community Club at her home on June 11. The secretary reported sending cards to all the hospital cases this past month and one birthday card to a senior citizen. Letters were read from the State Highway Commission concerning speed signs through East Andover. It was noted that this was the tenth year that the club had given $5 to a worthy member of the senior class on graduation night. This year the prize went to Marilyn White.

In the absence of the Sunday School Superintendent the date of the annual outing will be announced later.

Mrs. Robert B. Swain won the mystery package. The July meeting will be on July 9 with Linwood Tucker as hostess.

THIS IS YOUR TOWN
By George Ganley
This is your town
From boundary to boundary
All the way up—
And all the way down
This is your town.
As far as you can see
Every rock and every tree
The water and the soil—
You should not spoil.
And when you look around
Take pride—this is your town
You can curse it—or you can nurse it.
You can embrace it—or deface it.
But when you look around
You realize—this is your town
Its destiny is your destiny
You are its master
Lead the way to success—or disaster
Let it wear a smile—or a frown
But remember—this is your town.

When the destination is desirable, expectation speeds our progress.—Mary Baker Eddy

The greater part of progress is the desire to progress.—Seneca

Social progress makes the well-being of all more and more the business of each.—Henry George

GUY BARTLETT

Our community was saddened Saturday, June 8, by the death of Guy Bartlett at his home on Paradise Road following a long illness.

Born in East Bethel at the old Bartlett farm seventy-three years ago, he lived all his life in Bethel. This is the place he loved, and here he was happy.

Fifty-four years ago on March 20, 1909, he married Rose Greenwood of Hardwick, Vt. For many years they operated a poultry farm in East Bethel, and they were well loved and respected by the people of that community. Four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett moved to the village, but they always retained their intimacy with their former neighbors, and their interest has never waned.

For the past twenty-five years, Mr. Bartlett has been an agent for the Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Company. Business friends throughout Oxford County and neighbors alike ever found him dependable and obliging. Now that he is no longer in our service, many are confronted by a sense of loss. It is not easy to understand the closing of a valuable life.

To his bereft wife, children, and grand-children, all sympathy is given. During his last illness, he was constantly and tenderly cared for by his wife.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, June 11, from the East Bethel Church under the direction of the Greenleaf funeral home. Rev. Clifford Laws of the Congregational Church conducted a simple and beautiful service. Burial was in the peaceful East Bethel Cemetery, where he sleeps for eternity.

"He would not want the ones he loves

To grieve for him today;
We must not say that he is dead,
For he is just away—
Away upon a journey
To a land that's bright and fair;
And though we all will miss him here
We know he's happy there—
And memories of him will bring
New comfort every day
As we recall—he is not dead
For he is just away!"

Saturday afternoon, June 15, the Bethel Methodist Church, was the scene of an attractive summer wedding when Miss Beverly Blake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Blake, of Bethel, and David Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Brown of Norway, exchanged vows. The Reverend Richard Hamilton officiated. Traditional wedding music was provided by Miss Kathy Clemons, organist, and Mrs. Arlene Hamilton, soloist. The altar was decorated with baskets of yellow and white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length gown of chantilly-type lace over taffeta, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and long sleeves ending in bridal points. She carried a cascade of yellow and white roses with white streamers.

Miss Barbara Angevine, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a street length gown of turquoise chiffon over yellow taffeta fashioned with a full skirt and a shawl collar ending in a v-back. Her yellow face veil was attached to a matching band. Miss Mary Clark, South Portland, the bride's former roommate at Springfield College, wore a gown of apricot chiffon over taffeta styled identically to the maid of honor's. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow carnations.

Attending the groom as best man was his cousin, Neil Brown, of Norway. Ushers were Robert Blake, brother of the bride, and Ernest Jackson, Norway.

Mrs. Penny Hathaway, Boston, poured punch while Miss Barbara Angevine cut the cake. Miss Mary Clark circulated the guest book. Miss Barbara Mundt and Mrs. Anne Benson had charge of the gifts.

For going away the bride chose a white sheath with matching jacket lined with a splash print to match the bodice of the dress. After a wedding trip to Canada the couple will be at home on Norway Lake.
